1 – PURPOSE

The purpose of this policy is to have a clear and consistent understanding of how Wrestling Canada Lutte (WCL) determines which domestic wrestling events are required, who should be sanctioned to host and to organize such events to achieve the following outcomes:

- Provide a framework for articulating the purpose, structure, and timing of WCL sanctioned events in Canada;
- Determine the methodology for selecting groups to host domestic events;
- Enable the establishment of specific regulations for each type of domestic event outlining the specific roles and responsibilities of WCL and the HOCs;
- Mitigate and manage risks to WCL;
- Enhance and grow the sport of wrestling and WCL’s brand;
- Enabling the administration of this policy.

2 – DEFINITIONS

HPC	WCL’s High Performance Coordinator
LTD	WCL’s Long Term Development
NCCP	WCL’s National Coach Certification Program
UWW	United World Wrestling
WCL	Wrestling Canada Lutte

3 – SCOPE & APPLICATION

These requirements apply to all WCL sanctioned domestic events in Canada. These do not apply to training camps, training activities or any non-sanctioned WCL events.

4 – KEY PRINCIPLES

WCL’s Domestic Event Hosting Policy is based on the following key principles:

- Different domestic events have different mandates and expectations requiring differentiated policies and regulations for each.
- The public's perception of Wrestling's brand is significantly influenced through how WCL presents its sanctioned events, which has a substantive and direct influence on financial support WCL may receive from government and other external stakeholders.
- WCL's role is to provide governance and oversight of domestic events by sanctioning third party HOCs rather than undertaking direct operational approach.
- HOC's role is to plan, deliver, finance and undertake all operational matters of domestic events that have been assigned to them and sanctioned by WCL.

5 – POLICY

In order to meet the needs of WCL stakeholders and the operational and technical needs and policies of WCL, WCL will sanction the hosting of the following domestic events in Canada:

- Canadian Wrestling Trials is an annual competition for Seniors (FS-WW-GR), Juniors (FS-WW-GR) and Cadets (FS-WW), with a mandate focused on world & international team selection, rankings and preparation for international competition. This event will be comprised of 4 days of competition (Thursday, Friday, Saturday & Sunday) on a minimum of 5 mats and is held annually on the second weekend of March. The regulations governing the hosting of this event is detailed in the BOD approved Hosting Regulations - Canadian Wrestling Trials \(Senior, Junior, Cadet\).
- Canadian Wrestling Championships is an annual competition for U17 (FS-WW-GR-WGR) and U19 (FS-WW-GR-WGR), with a mandate focussed on mass participation, athlete development & year-end celebration. This event will be comprised of 3 days of competition (Friday, Saturday & Sunday) on a minimum of 10 mats and is held annually on the last weekend of March (unless it conflicts with Easter, then it will be moved to the first weekend of April). The specific requirements governing the hosting and operation of this event are detailed in the BOD approved Hosting Regulations - Canadian Wrestling Championships \(U17 & U19\).
- Canadian Team Trials is a competition held once every four years in the Senior age group to select the designated Canadian wrestler to qualify for participation at the Olympic Games in FS-WW-GR. This event will be comprised of 3 days of competition (Friday, Saturday & Sunday) on minimum of 1 mat and is held annually in December prior to the Olympic Games. The specific requirements governing the hosting and operation of this event are detailed in the BOD approved Hosting Regulations – Canadian Team Trials (forthcoming).
- In addition to the above regularly scheduled and planned domestic events, there is periodically a requirement for ad hoc competitions to facilitate the selection of one or more athletes for a specific event. These events are typically held on a single day on a single mat. They will be organized and occur as determined by WCL's HPD, in their sole discretion, but within the BOD approved Hosting Regulations – Ad Hoc Competitions (forthcoming).

EHAC will assess the completed bids using a pre-defined scoring matrix to identify the best candidate reflective of the designated priorities for each event. EHAC will recommend the top candidate to the WCL Board for approval. Once approved, the event will be formally awarded to the HOC, and a formal Hosting Agreement will be signed between WCL and the HOC for the event.

For Ad Hoc Events, the HPD will select the date, site and format for the event, as dictated by the respective National Team Policy.
